Good Hunting
It isn't necessary to be a professor to forget to remember to return a borrowed umbrella. Any one can do it with a little practice as Mr. Smith found out. He was carrying an umbrella because it looked a little like rain. An acquaintance he happened to meet mentioned that the umbrella that Smith was carrying was not his and he was carrying the man's umbrella before he forgot it again.

Smith was determined that he wouldn't be caught with somebody else's umbrella again so he headed for the nearest department store and purchased one for each member of his family. He boarded a bus for the return home and who was sitting opposite him on the bus but the acquaintance to whom he had just returned the umbrella.

The other man eyed Smith's armful of umbrellas rather admiringly. "Darnd good hunting, Smith," he complimented him.

Helps Other People
For 15 years now, Milburn has been wrestling with other people's problems. He has his shop at Burlington because he likes the solitude; he sympathizes with folks who have to work in downtown Cincinnati.

His business, essentially, is to take on the engineering of ideas of embryonic inventors.

His contact media are two-line classified ads in such magazines as Popular Mechanics. These bring in problems from all sorts of inventors. And they are interesting stories he gets.

"I have seen more rat traps and combination salt and pepper shakers than anybody in the world," he observed with a broad grin.

About 80 per cent of the inquiries are of questionable usefulness, but the other 20 per cent contains many ideas of potentially worth-while ideas for new products, or improvements of existing products.

He went in earnest when he pondered the sad plight of many worth-while ideas or gadgets. The inventor may have a practical idea; Milburn may be able to engineer it into a marketable product.

Kentucky Man Is 'Inventor' For Inventors

CINCINNATI, Ohio. — Way out in a cornfield near Burlington, Ky., lives Frank Simon Milburn, whose claim to distinction is that he operates one of the most unusual plants in all the Middle West. This is true for many reasons, but probably for the chief reason that Milburn is the sole worker in the plant.

The building which houses the industry has a puzzling collection of complex tools and machinery, dies, jigs and other items. It does practically no manufacturing, this strange industry—in fact the whole production required, the better Mr. Milburn likes it.

It is difficult to describe the operation as a business; it is more like a profitable hobby.

Milburn likes engineering problems, so he has found his occupation in solving the problems of big and little people who want help.

That Showed 'Em

A baseball team had been staggering through a terrific batting slump. Game after game had been lost due to that missing punch in the pinch. The coach called a special batting practice one morning and watched with disgust as his players bounced slow grounders to the infield and short pop flies, also to the infield.

Grabbing a bat he charged out of the dugout and snorted, "Here, you mugs, I'll show you what I want done." He ordered the pitcher to toss him in as hard as he could but he had forgotten that he was out of practice. He did no better than his men. After about ten futile swipes at the horseshoe he flung his bat to the ground and shouted, "See, that's what you guys have been doing. Now get up there and learn to slug the ball!"

Courtship, Wedding Materialize From Ad Placed in Newspaper

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—A five-day courtship and marriage all which resulted from a newspaper wanted ad placed in the St. Joseph Star-Journal last week.

Donelson specified in his ad, run on a Tuesday, that he wanted a bride by Saturday. He is an ex-soldier and former circus fire-eater.

It was fortunate, Donelson said, that he met the bride-to-be on the blue-eyed, brown-haired Miss Krebs, when the deadline was so near.

It was Mortimore's suggestion that his roofing-business partner come along for a dual marriage ceremony.

Cupid scored a direct hit right after Donelson arranged a drug-store meeting at noon as the bride-to-be phoned him.

After that romance and tough competition from persons who took a fancy to the couple in love.

Donelson and the bride-to-be met at the drug store, where they had a date for the wedding. They were married on Tuesday, September 13, at the home of Mrs. Gilbert, known to thousands of America service men whom she befriended during the war, was in Chicago to visit one of "her" boys.

She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kodak, whose son, LeRoy, 28, once enjoyed Mrs. Gilbert's hospitality in England during the war.

The tiny, sprightly little woman opened her house to servicemen. They slept on featherbeds, raided her icebox and joked with her on the brief leaves they had before the war.

"Mum" was in the United States to visit as many of her "boys" as she can find. They all invited her to their homes to help repay her generosity.

Inspiration for her unselfish acts came from her son, Michael, a private in the British army, who was killed.

She remembered and opened her own home to American lads "because Michael would have wanted that."

Frogs Blitz Two Streets As Mobilians Puzzled

MOBILE, Ala.—Thousands of dime-sized, mud-colored frogs, apparently all hopped up over something, recently blitzed two streets here and had residents rubbing their eyes in amazement.

J. M. Ramsey said he noticed all the frogs seemed westward bound from a nearby water hole and he figured they were "just migrating."

Paul English said his duck flock found the frogs at dawn and by 8 A. M. had eaten so many they couldn't stand up.

"They just sat on the ground and kept eating every frog that hopped close enough."

Where the frogs came from or why was a mystery.

'Mum' Visits in Chicago To See One of 'Her' Boys

CHICAGO.—Chicago had a distinguished visitor recently—a tiny, 76-year-old lady from London, England. Her name is Mrs. Adelaide Gilbert.

Mrs. Gilbert, known to thousands of America service men whom she befriended during the war, was in Chicago to visit one of "her" boys.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life. The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have started rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recent experience on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts.

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad!

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Obviously the railroads cannot be run

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

Dog Bites Man— Dog Dies

Louie Bailey is the kind of man you just can't keep out of the news. His close friend, Jim English, reports that Mr. Bailey's pet dog bit his master last Friday and died within thirty minutes.

Mr. Bailey claims the report is somewhat in error. He was playing with the dog at his home when the dog bit him on the hand, breaking the skin in two places. He said he thought nothing of the matter at the time, but when the dog took a running fit and died (more than thirty minutes) later, he became alarmed. Mr. Bailey said he doesn't think the dog was mad, but just to be on the safe side he is taking 14 hydrophobia shots which are causing him considerable soreness in the midriff section.

Kill Giant Rattler

Lucius English and Louie Bailey report killing a mammoth rattlesnake Monday. They saw the snake crossing the highway in the bottom near the Tup Plant home. Mr. English said he tried to run over it with his car, but missed it. He stopped and backed up, and by maneuvering around he ran over it with the front wheel. This seemed only to anger the snake which struck at the tire and rim several times. He then drove the car upon the rattler and stopped with the back wheel directly on it, crushing the life out of the snake. Messrs. English and Bailey said the rattler was about six feet long and had more than a dozen rattles.

Has Been

Representative H. B. Larkins, Principal S. J. Casey and Charles Hayes went fishing Saturday below Pea River dam with good results. ### Fishing Hard Work

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Perdue spent the week-end on the gulf coast on a fishing trip. Mr. Perdue said that when he reached a point about four miles from his destination his motor went dead. After spending much time on an unsuccessful effort to get it to start again he broke out the oars and made his way in against an adverse tide. He described it as a strenuous experience. The next day at the cottage he tried the motor again, and, motor-like, it ran as sweetly as if nothing had ever been wrong with it.

Elba - New Brockton Have Two Wins Each In Tri-C Play-offs

A large crowd of baseball fans saw the New Brockton team win the fourth game of the Tri-C play-offs Sunday afternoon and tie up the series at two all. The birds got off to a bad start when Harry Bullard was struck on the hand by a ball off the bat of Otis Williams during batting practice and was unable to start the game. Billy Morrow was given the starting role and performed well, but costly errors and loose fielding on the part of his teammates contributed to five of the New Brockton runs scored off his offerings. Second baseman Elton was the worst offender with three costly bobbles.

Bullard relieved Morrow in the seventh inning. New Brockton added two more runs in the last three innings. Jimmy Boswell led the Redbirds at the plate with a triple and a double. Several other members of the team added nice blows at the bat, but they were outplayed on the field and at bat.

Brantley Kicked to Elba

Brantley kicked to Elba to start the second half, but a fumble gave them possession of the ball. They failed to gain and punted to the Elba eight with Farris, Brunson, Conner and Flowers sharing the ball carrying duties. Elba drove to a third touchdown. Flowers going over for the score and putting Elba in the lead 19 to 0.

The two teams played on fairly even terms for the remainder of the game. Coaches Reynolds and Buckner used their reserves freely and they performed well. Two exceptional plays were carried out by Conner, who made a 17 yard dash through the line, and Flowers, who showed considerable broken field ability in returning a punt 15 yards.

The Tiger line played a good game, chugging through and smearing the opposing back for losses on several occasions. Their downfield blocking also was a decided improvement over recent years. Devane played an outstanding game at end position. Farris lived up to expectations and played a fine defensive game as well as leading the team in offense. Flowers did a fine job at the quarterback position but made several costly fumbles. A little more game experience should make this year's Tiger team one of the best in this section.

Believes In Fifty-Fifty Mixture

One can always get good ideas about farming (or other matters too, if desired) by talking with Math McCollough, he said Tuesday that in his 47 years of farming experience in Coffee County he has never seen a crop that was harder to make than this one. He said that besides being a light crop it takes about 150 pounds more of seed cotton to make a bale of lint than usual. Mr. McCollough believes that the best way to build up and to conserve land is to plow cotton stalks under as soon as the cotton is picked and plant oats and blue lupine on a 50-50 basis. He said that an excellent soil builder and as well as providing grazing. Mr. McCollough's brother, Ran, accuses him of slipping one over on him about a year ago when they went to Florida ostensibly to get seed cane. They got the cane all right (Ran claims to have done most of the getting) and a few days after they arrived home a Florida lady arrived in Troy and she and Math were soon happily married. The Math McCollough home has been thoroughly redone, and Ran says he is well pleased with the part he played in the match-making, as he has never observed two happier people.

Next week the Tigers play the

Elba Tigers Open 1949 Season With 19-0 Win Over Brantley

The Elba Tigers started the season here last Thursday night with a 19 to 0 victory over a large but inexperienced eleven from Brantley. An unusually large crowd of 1800 people came out to witness the game. Elba fans seemed to be well pleased at the performance of the team.

Elba jumped to the lead in the first quarter when Farris crashed over left tackle for 30 yards and a touchdown. A few plays later Conner had fumbled on the Brantley nine to stall off an Elba drive. Brantley covered the fumble but were unable to gain and punted. Farris started the drive with a 15 yard run and culminated it with the 30 yard gallop across the goal.

To Play In Dothan Thursday; Luverne Here Sept. 30th

Brantley missed a scoring opportunity in the second quarter when Farris fumbled on the Elba seven. In turn fumbled on the first play. Elba punted out of danger. Elba's second touchdown came in the second quarter with Farris again making his way through the opposing line. This run was for 34 yards and culminated a drive starting on the Brantley 30 yard line. Flowers and Brunson picked up a first down on the Elba 41. Conner failed to gain in two attempts at the line; then Flowers hit Brunson with a pass in the flats and Brunson carried 94 yards to the Elba eight before being hauled down. A second pass went incomplete, after which Farris came through with his second long run that counted for six points.

Flowers going over for the score and putting Elba in the lead 19 to 0.

The two teams played on fairly even terms for the remainder of the game. Coaches Reynolds and Buckner used their reserves freely and they performed well. Two exceptional plays were carried out by Conner, who made a 17 yard dash through the line, and Flowers, who showed considerable broken field ability in returning a punt 15 yards.

The Tiger line played a good game, chugging through and smearing the opposing back for losses on several occasions. Their downfield blocking also was a decided improvement over recent years. Devane played an outstanding game at end position. Farris lived up to expectations and played a fine defensive game as well as leading the team in offense. Flowers did a fine job at the quarterback position but made several costly fumbles. A little more game experience should make this year's Tiger team one of the best in this section.

Believes In Fifty-Fifty Mixture

One can always get good ideas about farming (or other matters too, if desired) by talking with Math McCollough, he said Tuesday that in his 47 years of farming experience in Coffee County he has never seen a crop that was harder to make than this one. He said that besides being a light crop it takes about 150 pounds more of seed cotton to make a bale of lint than usual. Mr. McCollough believes that the best way to build up and to conserve land is to plow cotton stalks under as soon as the cotton is picked and plant oats and blue lupine on a 50-50 basis. He said that an excellent soil builder and as well as providing grazing. Mr. McCollough's brother, Ran, accuses him of slipping one over on him about a year ago when they went to Florida ostensibly to get seed cane. They got the cane all right (Ran claims to have done most of the getting) and a few days after they arrived home a Florida lady arrived in Troy and she and Math were soon happily married. The Math McCollough home has been thoroughly redone, and Ran says he is well pleased with the part he played in the match-making, as he has never observed two happier people.
